

Is a picture worth a thousand words? More images for enterBooks.

29th July 2003

Dawson's online resource enterBooks.com has been further enriched this week with the introduction of 15,500 Pearson jacket images.

As part of the suite of information enhancements available to the enterBooks.com user, the jacket images assist in clarifying the book search and lend greater confidence to your book selections.

Illustrated is an example of an enterBooks.com record with its associated jacket image. Access is simple - merely click on the red 'Jacket Image' button and you are directed to the detail page which also displays ISBN, Author, Format and Title information.

enterBooks.com continues to expand in its depth and variety - this year nearly 30000 records have been added with a jacket image. On enterBooks.com a picture really is worth a thousand words!